Best Western Victoria Park Suites Offers ViP Treatment to Ottawa Bound Business Travellers

Ottawa, Ontario (November 21, 2005) At Best Western Victoria Park Suites they don't go home happy until you do!

Maurice, Front Desk Agent, isn't exactly a huge fan of the snow. And driving in the stuff? He dislikes that even more. But one cold, grey December evening, the intrepid Maurice ventured out into one of the biggest storms of the season. What could have driven him to drive into this tempest? His sense of duty. You see, one of the hotel's guests had left an important item behind. Knowing that a cab wouldn't make it to the airport in time to reunite the guest with his property, Maurice took matters, as well as a frigid steering wheel, into his own hands. Arriving at the airport with mere minutes to spare, Maurice personally handed the item to the surprised, and extremely relieved, traveller. Proof once again that, even after you've left Best Western Victoria Park Suites, you're still a VIP.

"Time and again our guests tell us they are pleasantly surprised at the caliber of this property and the personalized service they receive ", says Roger MacKinnon, Director of Sales & Marketing.
